

The power behind your renewable energy project

It can be pretty challenging to find an insurer that offers the level of cover that's right for your renewable energy business.

Luckily we understand this complex industry and the various associated risks: environmental, contractual, supply chain, delivery, construction and operational, so we're able to offer expert advice and arrange the right renewable energy insurance to protect your business.

Insurance policies you can rely on: Competitive, comprehensive and tailored to you.

- Solar panel farms
- Wind farms
- Hydro plant facilities
- Anaerobic digestion and biogas plants (AD)
- Biomass systems
- Geothermal
- Battery energy storage systems (BESS)
- Combined heat and power units
- Waste to energy
- District heat networks
- Electric vehicle charging networks
- Gas filling stations
- Decommissioning covers
- Legal indemnity cover

Quality service and professional advice from passionate people

Engrained in the renewable energy industry, we're committed to supporting the evolving needs of your growing business. And as your insurance partner to lean on – whatever the deadline, we make it achievable.

1| Global reach, local focus – we combine the power of Marsh with the passion of our people; delivering world-class expertise with a personal touch, all on your doorstep.

2| Recognised by the renewable energy industry – we understand the in-depth challenges and insurance needs of the renewables industry and are valued members of the Anaerobic Digestion and Bioresources Association.

3| Strong reputation and relationships with insurers – using our size and scale, we negotiate with trusted leading UK insurers and specialist providers the best cover, price and lending agreement we can for you. This will help to make your projects bankable.

4| We'll be there if you have to make a claim - in the unfortunate event of a claim we offer claims advocacy to help make sure the process is as quick and seamless as possible.
